DETAILED ACTION

► If the claims are amended, added and/or canceled in response to this office action the applicants are required to follow Amendment Practice under 37 CFR § 1.121 (<http://www.uspto.gov>) and A CLEAN COPY OF ALL PENDING CLAIMS IS REQUESTED.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 17-21, 37-38 and 22-25, drawn to a method of evaluating the ability of an agent to inhibit tumor invasion, wherein the agent is an antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 130.1.
- II. Claims 17-21, 37-38 and 26-32, drawn to a method of evaluating the ability of an agent to inhibit tumor invasion, wherein the agent is a peptide classified in class 512, subclass 2.
- III. Claim Claims 17-21, 37-38 and 33-35, drawn to a method of evaluating the ability of an agent to inhibit tumor invasion, wherein the agent inhibits an interaction between tumor cell and extracellular matrix molecule classified in class 435, subclass 375.
- IV. Claim Claims 17-21, 37-38 and 36, drawn to a method of evaluating the ability of an agent to inhibit tumor invasion, wherein the agent inhibits the binding of RAGE to amphoterin, classified in class 435, subclass 375.

Claim 21 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising: a peptide, a nucleic acid, a synthetic organic compound, an inorganic molecule, a carbohydrate, a lipid, an antibody or a small molecule. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are distinct. Inventions are distinct if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case inventions I is drawn to a method of inhibiting tumor invasion by administering an antibody whereas inventions II is drawn to a method of inhibiting tumor invasion by administering a polypeptide respectively. These methods have different mode of operation and effects because polypeptides and antibodies are structurally and functionally distinct compounds. Thus, these inventions are distinct and are of separate use.

Inventions III and IV are distinct. Inventions are distinct if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case inventions III and IV are drawn to two distinct methods of evaluating the ability of an agent. The invention III is drawn to method of screening agent that inhibits the interaction between tumor cell and extracellular matrix molecule whereas invention IV is drawn to a method of screening agent that inhibits the binding of RAGE to amphoterin. Thus, these inventions are distinct and are of separate use.

In addition inventions of groups I and II are distinct from inventions of group III and IV since each have different modes of operation, functions or effects. For example, invention of group I and II require the use of a polypeptide or antibody to inhibit tumor invasion, whereas the invention of group III and IV requires identification of agents that specifically inhibit interaction between tumor-cell/extracellular matrix and RAGE/amphoterin respectively. Thus, these inventions are distinct and are of separate use.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
